

GENES REGULATING CIRCADIAN CLOCK FUNCTION AND PHOTOPERIODISM

Abstract

5 Nucleic acid molecules that encode plant proteins involved in photoperiodism and circadian rhythms are disclosed. These molecules may be introduced into plants in order to alter the photoperiodic and/or circadian clock-based gene expression of the plants.